COPYWRITER IN THE AI ERA

The machine writes decent copy for free. 'Decent' was most of the job.

★ TL;DR — NO. Median ~$75K, a ramp of 1–6 months — straight into the most automated craft in marketing. The roadmap below is the way OUT, not in: your persuasion brain is valuable, the typing is not. ★

THE CAREER GLITCH TAKE

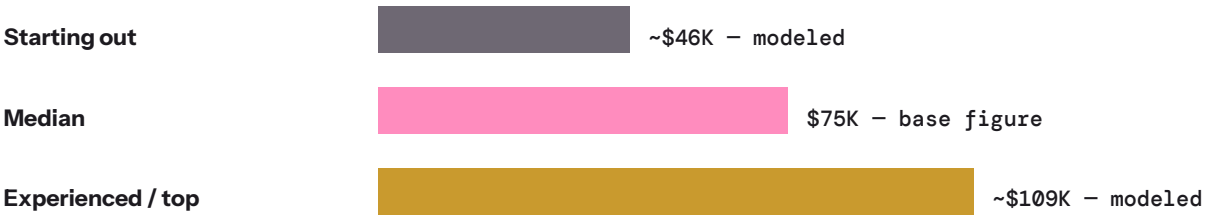

OUR TAKE: NO — NOT IN 2027

MEDIAN ~$75K · TRAINING 1-6 months · AI RISK HIGH

- Fails as a start because: ads, emails and landing pages are the first thing every business generates with AI — the junior portfolio gig is gone.
- The money problem: a ~$75K median with rates under permanent pressure; clients now pay for copy only when it's attached to revenue.
- Still worth money: persuasion. A person who can make strangers act is rare — in sales and lifecycle marketing, that skill is the product.

The site's take, built from this profession's numbers in the Career Glitch base.

THE MONEY — LOOK AT THE BARS

The Career Glitch base figure for Copywriter is a ~$75K median (compiled from U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Occupational Outlook Handbook ranges). The starting and top bars are modeled around that median — orientation, not a promise. Pay swings hard by state, employer and experience: check live postings in your state before planning around any number.

WHAT DOES A COPYWRITER ACTUALLY DO?

- ✓ Write ads, emails, landing pages and product copy to briefs and deadlines
- ✓ Interview customers and mine reviews for the words buyers actually use
- ✓ Produce variants for A/B tests and rewrite the losers
- ✓ Keep a brand's voice consistent across every channel

Think: a street performer whose act a vending machine now does on every corner — the talent is real, the corner is crowded.

WHAT AI ALREADY TOOK (AND WHAT IT CAN'T)

THE ROBOT	THE HUMAN
First drafts of everything, headline variants, email sequences, product descriptions, tone matching. The blank page — the copywriter's old moat — is free now.	Knowing which promise a specific human will believe, hearing the objection under the objection, and taste. Persuasion insight survives; sentence production doesn't.

⚠ THE PORTFOLIO ILLUSION: 20 pretty samples prove you can write. Clients in 2027 ask one question — what did it sell? Most portfolios can't answer.

THE VIBE — IS THIS YOUR LIFE?

THE JOB IS	THE JOB IS NOT
✓ Words, psychology and variety — a new puzzle every brief ✓ Freelance-friendly, remote, portfolio-driven ✓ Fast feedback when tests come back	✗ Not rate-safe: every client now asks why they shouldn't just generate it ✗ Not senior-safe either: editing AI output is the shrinking version of the job ✗ Not stable income for beginners: feast-or-famine without a niche

Good fit? Already a copywriter with direct-response proof — numbers you caused. Or a specialist in a regulated, high-trust niche where a wrong word costs real money.
Bad fit? Beginners whose plan is 'I'm good with words.' So is the software, and it works weekends.

THE FORK — PICK ONE DOOR

DOOR A — PIVOT TO CRM / Email Marketer	DOOR B — PIVOT TO B2B Sales Rep

A $78,760 median with +7% growth (BLS, Market Research Analysts and Marketing Specialists, 2025–35) — the strongest verified door out of copy. Your copy runs inside systems: lifecycle flows, segmentation, retention — work judged by revenue, not by taste. The writing becomes one lever among data and timing, and that bundle is far harder to automate away. First move: design one full email lifecycle — welcome, abandon, win-back — for a store you know, with the logic explained.	A ~$76K median overall (BLS, Wholesale and Manufacturing Sales Representatives) — ~$105K only in technical and scientific products, where the top 10% clear $200K on commission. Growth is flat (0%), so the honest pitch is volume and resistance: ~123,400 openings a year, and relationship closing is persuasion AI demos worst. Every hour you spent hearing objections in copy research is sales training you already paid for. First move: take one product you wrote for and record yourself pitching it for 3 minutes — that's your audition tape.

Smart move: If you stay: stop selling words, sell the test — offer the variant, the hypothesis and the result. Copy attached to a number is the only copy with a future.
Where you land after: You land where persuasion is measured — a funnel or a quota — and the machine becomes your draft boy instead of your replacement.

STEP 1 — Admit the draft is free

FREE · TODAY

- List your last 10 tasks; mark what a client could generate in an hour
- Your asset is the persuasion instinct — that's what moves

STEP 2 — Learn the revenue rooms

SELF-PACED · 2 WEEKS

- Lifecycle email logic and CRM basics; sales call structure
- Map your copy skills onto each: objections, proof, urgency, trust

STEP 3 — Make the audition assets

FREE · 2 WEEKS

- Design one full email lifecycle with the reasoning written out
- Record a 3-minute pitch for a product you know cold

STEP 4 — Get a live rep

FREE · 3–4 WEEKS

- Run the lifecycle for one small business, free or cheap — or run the pitch live
- Capture the result — any result beats any sample

STEP 5 — Apply and pitch FREE · ONGOING

- CRM/email roles and B2B sales seats; lead with the assets and the result
- Freelance offer: the flow + the copy + the test, priced as a package

STEP 6 — Close your first number FREE · ONGOING

- Take the first quota or funnel you can own end to end
- Your copy past becomes the edge other reps and marketers don't have

FIRST 90 DAYS — JUST DO THIS

□ Today: mark which of your tasks are generatable. Train only for the rest.

□ Days 1–30: lifecycle and CRM fundamentals first, sales second; design the email lifecycle; record the pitch.

□ Days 31–60: run one real rep for a small business; capture whatever number moves.

□ Days 61–90: applications and client pitches with assets and a result in hand.

□ Day 90: you're a persuasion candidate with proof — not a typist in a price war with software.
