PRIVATE TUTOR (IN PERSON) IN THE AI ERA

AI tutors are infinite and patient. Parents still pay for the human who makes their kid actually do the work.

★ TL;DR — One-on-one tutoring, in person, in the premium scope only: local, self-employed, aimed at test prep — where posted rates average ~$100/hr and you keep every dollar. The occupation median is $43,350 and generic homework help is collapsing into free AI; this map deliberately sells the segment that isn't. ★

THE CAREER GLITCH TAKE

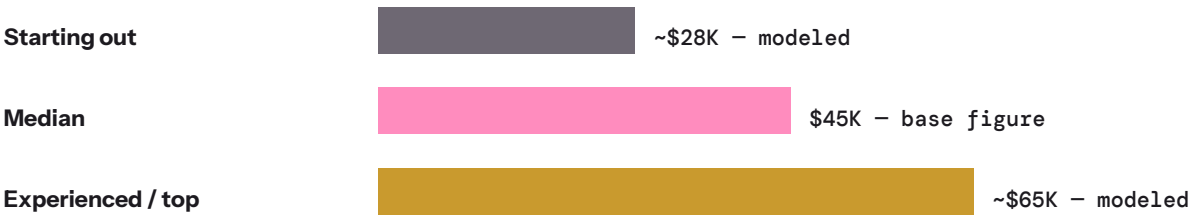

OUR TAKE: YES

MEDIAN ~$45K · TRAINING 1-6 months · AI RISK LOW

- Scope is the whole strategy: supervision, accountability and admissions stakes are what parents buy in person — explanations are free now.
- The economics beat the platform version of this job: booked directly, you keep 100% of the rate; the same occupation's online beginners net $10–20/hr after tolls.
- BLS itself projects private-tutoring demand to continue, driven by students competing to differentiate themselves for college admissions.

THE MONEY — LOOK AT THE BARS

The Career Glitch base figure for Private Tutor (in person) is a ~$45K median (compiled from U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Occupational Outlook Handbook ranges). The starting and top bars are modeled around that median — orientation, not a promise. Pay swings hard by state, employer and experience: check live postings in your state before planning around any number.

WHAT DOES A PRIVATE TUTOR (IN PERSON) ACTUALLY DO?

- ✓ Assessing exactly where a student's understanding breaks
- ✓ Running focused one-on-one sessions
- ✓ Assigning and reviewing practice between sessions
- ✓ Updating parents, scheduling, and marketing for the next students

Think: a personal trainer for grades — the workout is homework, the results are report cards.

WHAT AI ALREADY TOOK (AND WHAT IT CAN'T)

THE ROBOT	THE HUMAN
Explanations, drills and homework answers — generated free, instantly. Anything you sell that a chatbot also sells is priced at zero now.	A booked adult in the room: enforced focus, real accountability, knowledge of this child's school and teacher, and a parent who trusts you. That is the invoice.

⚠ THE SCOPE WARNING, IN WRITING: as generic homework help, this card is a NO — the same exposed product as online tutoring, plus travel. The YES exists only inside the premium scope: test prep, young children, supervision-and-trust buyers. Prime hours are evenings and weekends, and summer empties the calendar — price the peak accordingly.

THE VIBE — IS THIS YOUR LIFE?

THE JOB IS	THE JOB IS NOT
✓ Your rate, your roster, your rules ✓ Results you can point to in numbers ✓ Families that renew every term	✗ Evenings and weekends are prime time ✗ Summer empties the calendar ✗ You are the marketing department

Good fit? Strong in one or two subjects, patient, and happy to sell yourself locally.
Bad fit? You want students handed to you, or explaining the same concept six ways bores you.

THE FORK — PICK ONE DOOR

DOOR A — LOCAL TEST-PREP PRACTICE (DIRECT BOOKING)	DOOR B — CENTER OR PLATFORM SEAT AS A LEAD SOURCE

The premium door: pick one exam — SAT/ACT is the classic — that you can score at the top of yourself; BLS is blunt that test-prep tutors must have scored highly on the test. Posted test-prep rates average ~$100/hr (Care.com), and direct booking means no 25–33% platform toll. First move: publish your own score, take two students at an introductory rate, and turn their score gains into your rate card.	Start inside a tutoring center (families are charged $50–75/hr there, group format) or on a platform to buy your first reviews and referrals — then graduate your students to direct booking, where the same hour pays whole. On Wyzant, students you referred yourself book at 100% to you. First move: take the seat for leads and proof, not as the destination — and set the date you'll go independent.

Smart move: Pick one exam and own it locally. 'The algebra rescuer' beats 'tutor for everything' in every parent conversation — and your own score is the only credential this market checks. Where you land after: A premium independent practice with a waitlist — then a small studio, group intensives, or a second tutor working under your name.

YOUR ROADMAP — 6 STEPS

1	2	3	4	5	6
CHOOSE YOUR	BUILD YOUR	GET FIRST	PROVE RESULTS	SYSTEMIZE THE	RAISE AND

STEP 1 — Choose your niche

FREE · TODAY

- One exam or one subject, premium segment only: test prep, young children, or special-needs support
- Write down what you will NOT sell: generic homework help — it's the collapsing product

STEP 2 — Build your session method

WEEKS 1-3

- A diagnostic first session, a practice plan, and a parent report after every session
- Your own top test score, published — it's your credential in this segment

STEP 3 — Get first students

MONTHS 1-2

- Parent groups, school-adjacent networks, a center or platform seat for referrals
- Charge from day one; a paid diagnostic beats a free trial

STEP 4 — Prove results

MONTHS 2-4

- Track score deltas and grade changes; collect parent testimonials with numbers
- Move every repeat student to direct booking

STEP 5 — Systemize the roster MONTHS 3-5

- Fixed evening slots, a cancellation policy, pre-test intensive packages
- Cap the travel radius — drive time is the fee you pay yourself

STEP 6 — Raise and specialize MONTHS 5-6

- Raise rates on proof; a waitlist is the pricing signal
- Add a second exam or a small-group premium format only after the roster is full

FIRST 90 DAYS — JUST DO THIS

- □ Today: your niche and your own score, written down. If you can't prove the score, pick the subject you can.
- □ Days 1–30: diagnostic format built; first two students booked, directly or via a center seat.
- □ Days 31–60: a weekly roster running; parent reports going out after every session.
- □ Days 61–90: first score-gain testimonials in hand; rates set for the next intake.
- □ Day 90: a small local practice keeping 100% of a premium rate — not a profile in a global queue.
